BIOGRAPHY

Meet Pien; she's an Indie-Americana artist crafting bold, emotionally charged songs with infectious melodies and unfiltered lyrics.

Drawing on influences from Ella Langley, Fleetwood Mac, and Kacey Musgraves, Pien blends Americana storytelling with an indie aesthetic.

After an intensive eight-week artist bootcamp with Amplify Her, culminating in a sold-out showcase at The Ministry in London, Pien continues to develop her live and creative practice. She is also part of an artist development programme for UK female country artists, in association with Song Suffragettes and The F-List.

With support from BBC Introducing, Dutch national radio station Radio Veronica, and publications including Earmilk, Clout, and Happy Magazine Australia, Pien is building an audience across the UK and Europe. Her music has accumulated over 80,000 streams across streaming platforms, frequent airplay on In Her Ears Radio, Amazing Radio, Sound of Haarlem, and Pinguin Radio, alongside placements on curated playlists including Spotify's Coffee House Acoustic and the Starbucks Summer 2025.

Pien's live experience spans festivals, venues and international performances, including Pub in the Park, Summer in Nashville, Worcester Music Festival and Hastings Fat Tuesday. She has also secured support slots for artists such as Zoe Jean Fowler, Daytura and Veronica Fusaro.

Based between the Netherlands and London, Pien is continuing to establish her place in the Indie-Americana and Country music scene, with heart, grit, undeniable charm, and a distinct sense of style. Stay tuned for new releases on the horizon in 2027.
